WRITES OF HARRY HARLAND.
New Book By Mrs. E. R. Pennell Has Much to Say of Gifted Author.
A Boston author writes:

"This is the life!" one feels like exclaiming upon finishing Mrs. Elizabeth Pennell's charming volume of reminiscences called Nights.

How perfectly delightful poverty and art, youth and enthusiasm, theories of life and conversation about the theories can be shown by Mrs.
Pennell's account of her journeys with her husband and their joint conversations with their friends. Such an interesting people wander in and out of the pages—Vedder, Duveneck, Whistler, Wiley, Beardsley, and others.

Henry Harland plays the largest part in the Nights in Paris and London. He has his own portrait in all the later books and most of his heroes were himself. Verlaine appears too in these pages, a little sketch of a man who was still Gilbert "when she was still slim and wore a V shaped bodice."

The widow of Harry Harland recently left Norwich for London to attend to the Harland homestead, Sentry Hill, where the gifted writer spent so many years of his boyhood.

Thomas F. Edwards, of Norwich, and a Survivor.

Thomas F. Edwards, of Norwich, who will be 87 if he lives until November next, is out again daily and yesterday was picking dandelions in the fields near his home on the West Side. Mr. Edwards is now the only man living in Norwich who went through the Shenandoah Valley, the location of some of General Sheridan's famous battles, a month of 1862 days.

Mr. Edwards was born on Plain Hill. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted in the Eighth regiment, C.
V. the regular army. He was with the late General Edward Harland, of Norwich. Later, after coming home to recover from wounds, he enlisted in the Eighteenth regiment. During his earlier service, for twenty-two days at Newport News, he cared for General Harland, when the latter was ill with typhoid fever.

The government provides Mr. Edwards with sufficient pension to keep him comfortable in his declining years.

Henry LaFontaine Soloist.
An excellent musical programme was then given. It opened with two piano solos which were finely rendered by Henry LaFontaine. These were Grieg's Pavane, Opus 3, No. 5, and Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 4. Three songs by Mrs. Reuben Potter followed and were well received. Her numbers were "The Olden Days," "The Wings of Love," and "The Gift." Mary H.
Brown's "The Gift" and "The Wings of Love" were also accompanied.

Shakespearean Selections.
Part second of the programme was devoted to Shakespearean selections in honor of this poet's anniversary at this time, all except the first number, which was Come Gentle Spring, chorus from Haydn's oratorio, The Seasons.
The first number was "The Merry Wives of Windsor," by the Harmony club. Next came the song "The Sigh No More Ladies from Much Ado About Nothing," with music by Henry Hudson. This was given by a women's chorus, of which Frederick W. Lester was leader, with Miss Florence Schuchert at the piano. The first soprano was Mrs. Russell Baird, Miss Maud C. Buckingham, Mrs. William nie E. Vaughn; second soprano was and Mrs. Haskell. The choruses were Mrs. William H. Hubbard, Mrs. Marquette Wolf; altos were Miss Blackstone, Miss Bebe, Miss Crowe

and Mrs. Haskell. The choruses were
Mrs. William H. Hubbard, Mrs. Marquette Wolf; altos were Miss Blackstone, Miss Bebe, Miss Crowe
and Mrs. Haskell.

From Henry the Eighth Miss Helen B. Royce, violin, gave three delightful pieces, the Morris, Shepherd, and Torch, with Miss Annie Taft at the piano. Music was by Edward German.
Miss Taft also accompanied Mrs. Russell Baird in her two songs, given in good voice, when Daisies Pled and Violets Blue from Love's Labor's Lost, music by Arne, and Orpheus With His wife from Henry the Eighth, Charles F. Manney.

The Harmony club gave Mendelsson's Wedding March from Midsummer Night's Dream, and the women's chorus again favored with the song I Know a Bank, from the same play, and Mrs. Parker, and as the closing selection, Schubert's "The Lark, from Cymbeline.

Nine Meetings Held.
Nine meetings have been held since last May, usually on the first Monday of each month through the winter. Another interesting report was that of the programme committee, read by Miss Marie V. Caruthers. The active and student members take part in the programmes. There are 101 of these.
The programme committee has given programmes have been given all winter without any call upon outside help.
These programmes showed that there is an unusual wealth of superior ability in the use of stringed instruments in the community. An excellent piano has been secured and more solo work is being done. The talent has by no means been exhausted, there are still many inherent possibilities yet undeveloped and the association looks with blyssant hope towards the future.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE
One of Interest to Our Readers.
Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now.
The following experience of a Norwich man is confirmed after two years.

D. J. Brown, 8 Summer St., Norwich, says: "The results that followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in my case were satisfactory. I got this medicine at N. D. Sevin & Son's Drug Store and it proved effective in strengthening my kidneys and relieving other symptoms of kidney trouble." (Statement given August 27, 1909.)

OVER TWO YEARS LATER Mr.
Brown said: "Kidney trouble and I have been strangers for a long time."
